Reporting potential misconducts

- Eleving Group has an open-door policy and encourages everyone to share their questions, concerns, suggestions, or complaints. Employees and external stakeholders have the possibility of reporting suspected misconduct securely and confidentially through a confidential and anonymous system which makes it easy to report various misconducts.
- Eleving Group has implemented a specifically designed Trust Line which is established, and operated in a manner that ensures the completeness, integrity and confidentiality of the information and prevents access thereto by non-authorized persons.
- It is possible to report a concern to the Trust Line by telephone or online.
- The Trust Line is operated by an independent third party service provider and the reporting party can choose to remain anonymous.
- For submitting a potential misconduct by telephone, please call one of the Trust Line phone numbers shown on <https://bit.ly/3aOqfYM>. The Trust Line is monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The Trust Line allows for the option to report anonymously, depending on location. When reporting a case by phone, please expect moderate waiting time before an agent is available to answer the call. Employees and external stakeholders must provide reasonable support during an investigation of a potential violation.
- For submitting a potential misconduct online, please go to Eleving Group Trust Line website at <https://bit.ly/3aOqfYM>.
- The Trust Line allows Whistleblowers to:
 - report a concern and describe the misconduct details and involved parties, including the date and location of the misconduct;
 - upload files or photos;
 - choose whether they wish to stay anonymous;
 - submit their Report; as well as
 - check the status of an existing Report.
- When a Whistleblower reports a case via phone or online, they will receive a unique case number and will be asked to create a password. With this information, they can check the status of their case, see if there are any questions to their Report and provide additional information.
- Please note that the Trust Line is not an emergency hotline or a substitute for contacting law enforcement. For further guidance and relevant phone numbers, please use the Trust Line reporting portal.
